

Our Focus: "I Will vs. I Want"
Phil 2:1-4

If then there is any encouragement in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship with the Spirit, if any affection and mercy, 2 fulfill my joy by thinking the same way, having the same love, sharing the same feelings, focusing on one goal. 3 Do nothing out of rivalry or conceit, but in humility consider others as more important than yourselves. 4 Everyone should look out not only for his own interests, but also for the interests of others.

1. Believers are called to develop an upward focus. (V.1-2)

If then there is any encouragement in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship with the Spirit, if any affection and mercy, fulfill my joy by thinking the same way, having the same love, sharing the same feelings, focusing on one goal.

2. Believers are called to demonstrate an outward focus. (V.3)

Do nothing out of rivalry or conceit, but in humility consider others as more important than yourselves.

3. Believers are called to diminish an inward focus. (v.4)

Everyone should look out not only for his own interests, but also for the interests of others.
